Technology of the Arts

Graphic Design Contest

Have your work featured in the official

TEDxSUNYPotsdam poster

In Fall 2018, SUNY Potsdam will be putting on our very own TEDx Talk. To increase student participation and opportunities, we have decided to create a contest for the design of the poster for the event.

If you google TEDx Posters, you will see the numerous designs that are created to advertise and brand the event as something special, professional, and, most of all, unique.

The winner of the contest will have their design used for the posters to be put up around the school as well as on the SUNY Potsdam website. They will also be consulted for further incorporating their design and ideas into the stage setup of the event itself as well as other elements such as name tags.

We are looking for someone to try and incorporate the two themes (technology and the arts) into a design that is both appealing and interesting.

We will be accepting entries in the contest until May 1st

Designs can be submitted to cimbe@potsdam.edu and any additional question can also be sent to the same email.

This event is brought to you by a cooperation of the Crane Institute for Music Business and Entrepreneurship, and the Arts Management Program, the Department of Theatre and Dance, and SUNY Potsdam.
